DEDICATED TO LEARNING*Imposing Ceremonies at Trinity College for Women.

A Distinguished Gathering at the New Institution—Cardinal Gibbons' Officials—Pontifical Mass Celebrated by Archbishop Martinelli—A Sermon by Monsignor Conaty.

In the presence of a distinguished group of Catholic dignitaries the imposing granite structure henceforth to be known as Trinity College was dedicated yesterday. Standing on a commanding knoll at the junction of Michigan and Lincoln Avenues, in the Northeast section of the District, the new edifice overlooks the Catholic University of America, with which it is affiliated.

The dedication of this new institution of learning for women took place in the morning. Sister Julia, Superior of the order in the United States, had sent cards of invitation to the ceremony and the gathering which responded was composed of men and women occupying high positions in the world of learning and culture. Government officials, prominent business men, and leaders in the social world. The denominational and sectarian feeling had no place in the assemblage.

Long before the hour set for the ceremonies a constant flow of people began to fill the assembly room at the south-western extremity on the first floor, which had been transformed into a temporary chapel for the occasion. At 9:45 o'clock the procession composed of students, priests, monks, Bishops, Archbishops, and Cardinal Gibbons, passed through the corridors of the building and entered the assembly hall.

The deacons of honor at the pontifical mass were the Very Rev. Dr. Byrne and Very Rev. Dr. O'Hara. The deacon of the mass was Rev. Timothy Brosnahan, of Waltham, Mass., and the sub-deacon Dr. Joseph of Germany, found Licha and Rev. William T. O'Hara, President of Mount St. Mary's College, Md., and the Very Rev. M. Byrnes, Vicar General of the Diocese of Boston.

After the ceremony of blessing the buildings, Archbishop Martinelli took his seat on a dais, where he donned the vestments for the pontifical mass, to be celebrated by him. Cardinal Gibbons was seated on a dais opposite Archbishop Martinelli.

The deacons of honor at the pontifical mass were the Very Rev. Dr. Byrne and Very Rev. Dr. O'Hara. The deacon of the mass was Rev. Timothy Brosnahan, of Waltham, Mass., and the sub-deacon Dr. Joseph of Germany, found Licha and Rev. William T. O'Hara, President of Mount St. Mary's College, Md., and the Very Rev. M. Byrnes, Vicar General of the Diocese of Boston.

Mgr. Conaty took the text of his sermon Psalms xlv:5: "With thy comeliness and thy beauty set out, proceed prosperously and rejoice because of truth and meekness and justice, and thy right hand shall conduct thee wonderfully."

After alluding to the distinguished character of the present, Monsignor Conaty said:

"The work of nuns in the monastic system of the Church is remarkable for its effect upon education. St. Boniface, the Apostle of Germany, found Licha and Rev. William T. O'Hara, President of Mount St. Mary's College, Md., and the Very Rev. M. Byrnes, Vicar General of the Diocese of Boston.

Mgr. Conaty referred to the hundredth anniversary of the institution founded by Madame, Bar, who was the intimate friend of Sister Julie Billiart, whose Sisters now open Trinity College as the crowning work of sixty years of labor in the United States. He said that it was refreshing to see the establishment of a college for women which emphasized the necessity of religion in higher education.

A reception was held from 3 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon. Grouped in front of the artificially interlarded Stars and Stripes and the yellow and white colors of the Pope stood the University of Maryland, and the Sisters of Notre Dame, attended by Sister Lillian, the president; Sister Ignacia, the dean; and Sister Julia, the foundress, and the faculty of Trinity College.

There they greeted the numerous invited guests and visitors who came to pay their respects to the sisters and commend the work which they have accomplished. Cardinal Gibbons, in his vestments of red, and Archbishop Martinelli, in purple, priests and sisters in sober black and white, ladies dressed in fashionable attire, and gentlemen in conventional black, formed an interesting picture. The orchestra of the Marine Band was in attendance during the afternoon, and rendered selections. Luncheon was served in the banquet hall on the second floor.

Discussed the Philippines.
O. F. Williams, ex-Consul General at Manila, was at the White House yesterday. Mr. Williams spent quite a while with the President talking over the situation in the Philippines and discussing the probable outcome of the troubles in China. Mr. Williams was lavish in his praise of the work of the army officials in the Philippines, especially General Otis.

IN THE HOTEL CORRIDORS.

Representative Foss of Illinois, who has arrived from Chicago to begin work, was at the Arlington for a short time last night. In speaking of pending matters, he stated that he would call a meeting of the Committee on Naval Affairs early next week for the purpose of considering the annual Naval Appropriation bill. "I am in favor of an increased appropriation," said he. "I believe the sum ought to be nearly equal to the estimate of Secretary Long, which is $85,000,000, an increase of $2,500,000 over the appropriation made at the last session of Congress. I am in favor of using the increase to build a number of new cruisers and battleships, as our navy should be equal to that of any power."

Major H. P. Young, of the Quartermaster's Department, U. S. A., is at the Shoreham on business connected with the Adjutant General's office. He will remain here for some time.

"I knew Charley Hoyt, the playwright, who died on Tuesday, when he was dramatic editor of the Boston Post," said A. J. Grainey, of Boston, at Chamberlin's last night. "I was then in the newspaper business myself, and I knew him well. He was one of the 'whitest' men in the business. He never had a mean word for anyone, and his memory is revered by many newspaper men. I remember one night Hoyt and I interviewed Bob Ingersoll in the green room of the Boston Theatre. It was Sunday, and a big audience was waiting the appearance of the great orator. Well, Hoyt and Ingersoll got to exchanging views on religious subjects and both were so well equipped with argument and bright things that the audience was forgotten and Colonel Ingersoll was fifteen minutes late when a call boy reminded him that he had a task before him. He departed with regret and promised to see Hoyt at his hotel later. As for me, I caught the ideas of both men and turned out what was considered a splendid story. From that night until today I have never forgotten the arguments I heard and I have been a follower of Ingersoll ever since."

Capt. C. E. Gillette, Corps of Engineers, United States Army, is at the Elkhart on business connected with the War Department. He is accompanied by Capt. J. O. Sanford, Corps of Engineers, who is quartered at the Raleigh.

F. B. Carley, a prominent merchant of St. Louis, Mo., is at the Shoreham for a few days. He is deeply interested in the Custom bill to amend the Interstate Commerce law, and is confident that it will be passed at the coming session of Congress.

"Two days ago delegates representing thirty-seven industrial and commercial organizations met at St. Louis and drafted a memorial favoring the speedy passage of the bill," said he last night. "It was also decided to elect delegates to go to Washington and represent the meeting by stating the wishes of the people assembled. Our desire is to see the law as it is, and make it effective in accomplishing the results sought in its original enactment. We wish to be freed from the passage of the bill in the transportation service of the country, which the present law has proved inadequate to remedy."

A large party of representatives of the various druggists' associations of the United States is quartered at the Raleigh, Shoreham, and Willard's. They are in the city endeavoring to obtain a hearing before the House Ways and Means Committee in the hope of having removed at least a portion of the present war tax on patent and proprietary medicines. They will remain here and endeavor to have a measure passed.

E. C. Dewitt, of Chicago, one of the members, stated last night that notwithstanding a repeal of the sections of the law relating to the drug business would be satisfactory. "The burden of the tax has to be borne by the retail druggists of the country, with the result that it has reduced their profits about 35 per cent," said he. "They have to sell patent and proprietary medicines for the same price as they did previous to the passage of the law, and at the same time have to furnish revenue stamps for the various packages. This is unfair and unreasonable, and has lasted long enough. I am sure that the brewers and the stock exchanges are also clamoring for the repeal of the law. Well, they deserve it, but not as much as the little druggists, who are so small and who do every cent means something important."

Col. G. M. Brayton, U. S. A., retired, is at the Colonial for an extended visit to the city. Colonel Brayton, who is thirty years' continuous service in the army and has many friends in Washington.

"There is no truth in the newspaper stories about Quartermaster General White, of the Michigan State militia, returning to the State and pleading for clemency," said C. E. Howe, of Detroit, at Chamberlin's last night. "The facts in the case are that the survey of land which he was bonded has been settled with, so that it involves nothing. He has not returned and I don't believe he will. His crime was as ingenious as mine. While being quartermaster general of the State, he was also connected with a large clothing firm in Chicago. One day he condemned an immense quantity of military clothing and sold it to his firm for $10,000. On the following week he bought the goods back again for the State for $50,000. This was a clean steal of $40,000 and he was getting rich when the deal was discovered."

M. E. Booth, a prominent oil producer of southern California, is at the Riggs from Los Angeles. He is very enthusiastic over the future of his State and is a director in a big oil and land company.

"It has only been a year since people began to realize that as an oil country California is away ahead of Pennsylvania," said he last night. "Lately we have been getting great quantities of the product out and have opened many big wells. Even now the demand is greater than the supply and we get $1.25 per barrel for oil for fuel. Three barrels of oil are now sold for the price of one of coal and will give quicker and better action. Both the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railroad locomotives have been fitted up for oil fuel and it is a big success. Five big oil refineries have been built and the Standard Oil Company is getting its fills in by building five 50,000 barrel tanks. The oil has an asphaltum base and is better than that that found in that of California. The California wells have been pumped for twenty years, and are still producing."

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Yesterday the babies of the Foundling Hospital gave their annual tea. The thirty and more totos who are cared for so tenderly in their town home in Fifteenth Street were as fresh and pretty as the blossoms that adorned the lower rooms. Some of them were "at home" in the reception hall, each in a white frock with shoulder knots of ribbon, some pink and others blue. Babies not so large, and incidentally, not so robustly good, were carried about from room to room by pretty nurses in picturesque uniforms of white and blue. Up in the big, airy nursery both sides of the wall, in each crib lying a mite of a baby in its dainty white slip and ribbon bonnet. All were dainty beribboned socks of white wool and were carried about in a corolla of alternating pink and blue that contrasted prettily with the general whiteness of the room. Some of the babies laughed, kicked, and crowed for the benefit of their admiring visitors; others gazed with that inscrutable solemnity peculiar to babies, while two distinguished themselves by weeping from the beginning of the reception until its end. One of these babies was Elizabeth, who arrived at the hospital yesterday morning. A few sensible babies slept profoundly throughout, and refused to partake to any perceptible extent in the mild gaiety about them. The majority of them were bald, one was a dark-haired as a Spaniard, and a half dozen of them were very red. There are fewer babies at the hospital this year than last owing to the intense heat of summer. The babies of humanity are seldom given a fair chance for life, and it is owing only to the careful treatment given them after reaching the hospital that no danger is so large.

Refreshments were served, as usual, at tables grouped in a large room on the first floor. Each was decked with flowers and everywhere there were the soft, dimly lighted pink and crimson shades. The ladies having charge of the salad table were Mrs. B. G. Rutherford, Mrs. Simon Wolf, Mrs. J. B. Kendall, and Mrs. J. C. Pennie. Cake table: Mrs. A. L. Lerner, Mrs. L. B. Platt, Mrs. A. B. Browne, and Mrs. A. L. Britton. Candy table: Mrs. H. I. Cobb, Miss Helen Hurst, Miss Edythe Pratt, Miss Britton, Miss Woodward, and Miss Cobb. Miss Porter presided over the coffee urn and Mrs. W. P. Kellogg received the visitors and donations. Mrs. J. Curtis Smith acted as cashier. Mrs. McKimley sent a quantity of flowers through Colonel Bingham, and others were contributed by the Flower Guild. A stringed orchestra added greatly to the charm of the afternoon.

Courtesa Cassini did not receive yesterday afternoon.

The Marquis and Marquise de San Carlos de Pedrosa, who are now making a visit to New York, will be entertained at breakfast this morning by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Van Rensselaer, of Camp Hill, Port Washington.

The marriage of Mr. William Robert Shaw and Miss Clara E. Baker was solemnized at Trinity Church, Georgetown, on Wednesday, at noon. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph C. Mallon, pastor of St. Ann's Church, Tenleytown, assisted by Rev. J. F. Mulvaney, S. J., pastor of Trinity Church. The ushers were Mr. Clarence Shaw, a brother of the groom, and Mr. William O'Donnell. Immediately after the ceremony the newly married couple drove directly to the station. The return to the city will be made about December 2, when they will be pleased to see their friends at 1119 Thirty-third Street, where they will reside for the present, making their home with that of the mother of the bride.

Invitations have been sent out by Dr. and Mrs. George Henderson for the marriage of their daughter, Annie Powers, to Mr. Benjamin Ellsworth Tilton.

Mrs. George J. Zimmerman and Miss Livingston will be at home informally on Wednesday evenings after December 1.

A wedding of the near future will be that of Miss Blanche Slossard and Mr. Henry Robertson, of this city. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Slossard the ceremony will be a very quiet affair.

THE ARMY OF HEALTH.
The Army in the Philippines insignificant Compared With This One.
If all the people in the United States, Canada, and Great Britain who make daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets could be assembled together it would make an army that would outnumber our army of one hundred thousand by at least five to one.

Men and women, who are broken down in health, are only a part of the thousands who use this popular preparation, the greater number are people who are in fair health but who know that the way to keep well is to keep the digestion perfect and use Stuart's Tablets as regularly as meal time comes to insure good digestion and proper assimilation of food.

Prevention is always the best physician, and disease can find no foothold if the digestion is kept in good working order by the daily use of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Mr. Thomas Seale, Mayfield, Cal., says: "I have used and recommended Stuart's Tablets because there is nothing like them to keep the stomach right." Miss Lelia Dively, 467 Plummer Street, Pittsburg, Pa., writes: "I wish everyone to know how grateful I am for Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. I suffered for a long time and did not know what ailed me. I lost flesh right along until one day I noticed an advertisement of these tablets and immediately bought a 50-cent box at the drug store. I am only on the second box and am gaining in flesh and color. I have at last found something that has reached my ailment."

From Mrs. Del. Eldred, Sun Prairie, Wis.: "I was taken dizzy very suddenly during the hot weather of the past summer. After ten days of constant dizziness I went to our local physician, who said my liver was torpid and I had over heated my blood; he doctored me for two weeks without much improvement; I finally thought of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets (which I had used long before for various bad feelings) and the first three tablets helped me. They are easily the best all around family medicine I ever used." The army of people who take Stuart's Tablets are mostly people in fairly good health, and who keep well by taking them regularly after meals. They contain no opium, cocaine or any cathartic or injurious drugs, simply the natural peptones and digestives which every weak stomach lacks.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by druggists everywhere in United States, Canada, and Great Britain.
